

Video Guidelines 2023 - 20th European Burns Association Congress - Nantes, France

Videos

EBA is organizing a collection of videos relating to the main thematic track of the next EBA Nantes Congress: "Life beyond survival."

The selected videos will be shown at the conference.

Video Requirements

- Videos should be maximum of 3 minutes long, including opening and credits
- Adequate sound and image quality should be assured for projection onto a big screen
- Videos must be filmed on the horizontal scale
- Videos may be recorded in any language, providing, in any case, English subtitles
- Avoid unlicensed/ illegal use of copyrighted material
- Ask for consent and release of images of recognizable people in your video, particularly if the images are recorded in a private setting, such as a home or office, or in a situation where recording images is restricted, such as in hospitals
- The authors of a video bear full responsibility for ensuring that no material is used which could result in claims of any sort (royalty, breach of contract, etc.)
- The authors of the videos will grant permission for non-exclusive, non-commercial, unlimited screening of the video during the EBA conference and on the EBA media platforms
- Viewer discretion should be advised for potentially sensitive content

Text introducing the videos

The authors should provide a short text introducing the video (max 100 words).

Keywords

The authors should provide 3 keywords for facilitating the search of their video.

Inclusion & Judging

The organizers of the EBA Congress reserve the right not to show non selected videos and to exclude videos that contain offensive content or with insufficient sound or image quality.

The attendees to the EBA Nantes Congress will be invited to judge the videos in terms of relevance, content, quality, and creativity.

Prizes

The Best video prize will be assigned on the basis of the Conference's attendees voting in terms of relevance, content, quality, and creativity.

The prize will consist in the complimentary registration for the first author for the next EBA Congress.
